

Leslie Cook Wong

Leslie Cook Wong, Partner, Air Quality and Climate Change, Environmental Resources Management, is a licensed attorney (Texas) and experienced in air and GHG regulatory analysis and advocacy, agency negotiations, compliance program development and permitting. She brings to ERM over 20 years of experience in the oil and gas, landfill, renewable power, traditional power and manufacturing sectors from a mix of prior industry and consulting roles. In addition to developing and implementing the GHG management and sustainability reporting programs for a major North American waste and recycling company as its Director of GHG Programs, she has developed and implemented successful air regulatory change initiatives, GHG PSD permitting efforts, NOx and GHG offset generation and marketing projects as well as EMIS implementation projects. More recently, in her past consulting roles, she has led firm branding and marketing initiatives as well as firm recruiting efforts.