Interim Final Rule on Treatment of Foreign Affiliates

1. On May 18, 2020, the SBA issued an Interim Final Rule clarifying that absent a waiver or exception to affiliation rules, an applicant must count its own employees and those of its domestic and foreign affiliates to determine whether it falls within the SBA’s employee size standard for PPP loan eligibility.

2. The Foreign Affiliates Rule clarified previous FAQ Guidance requiring borrowers to have “500 or fewer employees whose principal place of residence . . . in the United States.” According to the SBA, such guidance applied only “to a PPP applicant’s calculation of payroll for purposes of determining the PPP loan amount and to the calculation of loan forgiveness”, and not for purposes of determining eligibility under the relevant employee-based size standards.

3. As an exercise of enforcement discretion and in light of such confusion, the SBA will not deem any borrower that applied for a loan prior to May 5, 2020 to be ineligible based on such borrower’s exclusion of non-U.S. employees from its headcount if the borrower has no more than 500 employees whose principal place of residence is in the United States. ¹

4. In no event, however, may PPP funds be used to support non-U.S. workers or operations under any circumstances.

¹ Importantly, the Foreign Affiliates Rule is promulgated by (and thus binding on) the SBA, which may enforce violations of the PPP or provide referrals to other agencies. Without further clarification or guidance, borrowers should understand that the Department of Justice or other civil and criminal enforcement agencies may take a different view on this proposed safe harbor. Borrowers who received funds prior to May 5, 2020 based on this interpretation are encouraged to consult with qualified legal counsel prior to retaining the funds based on the SBA’s proposed safe harbor.
SBA Loan Forgiveness Application. The Application includes step-by-step instructions for the calculations required to confirm eligibility for loan forgiveness, including payroll costs and nonpayroll expenses eligible for forgiveness (consisting of rent, mortgage and utility payments). Below are some highlights from the Application.²

1. Borrowers may calculate payroll costs using either the eight-week period beginning on the date of the loan disbursement (the “Covered Period”³) or an “alternative payroll covered period” that begins on the first day of their first pay period following their PPP Loan Disbursement Date (the “Alternative Covered Period”).

2. Consistent with the SBA’s recent FAQ Guidance, the Application includes an exemption from the loan forgiveness reduction formula for terminated employees, to the extent that borrowers made good-faith, written employment offers which were subsequently rejected by the employees.

3. Payroll costs are generally eligible for forgiveness if paid or incurred during the Covered Period or Alternative Covered Period so long as such payments are nevertheless paid on or before the next payroll date, even if this date lies outside the Covered Period. Payroll costs are considered incurred on the day that the employee’s pay is earned.

4. To qualify for forgiveness, nonpayroll costs must be paid or incurred during the Covered Period, and borrowers cannot rely on the Alternative Covered Period for such expenses. Nonpayroll costs incurred during the Covered Period must be paid on or before the next regular billing date.

5. Equipment leases and other personal property leases are eligible for forgiveness as “covered rent obligations,” so long as they were in force before February 15, 2020.

6. Borrowers are required to attach a worksheet (or obtain an equivalent report from their payroll system or payroll processor) concerning employee names, identifiers, cash compensation, and whether any forgiveness reductions are applicable. Additional documentation concerning proof of expenditures on approved nonpayroll costs is also required and is outlined in Page 10 of the Application.

7. To qualify for forgiveness, borrowers are required to make additional certifications regarding the use of funds and accuracy of submitted payroll, mortgage, utility and lease documentation, tax documents, and other supporting documents.⁴

Given the fast pace of developments, businesses are encouraged to seek advice from qualified legal counsel before applying for a PPP loan.

² According to Treasury Secretary Mnuchin, additional guidance on these forgiveness matters will be released shortly.
³ The Covered Period is the eight-week (56-day) period commencing on the PPP Loan Disbursement Date.
⁴ As outlined in our prior alert, such certifications must be reviewed carefully in light of the potential for civil and criminal penalties, including under the False Claims Act. If you have any questions concerning your ability to make such certifications, please consult qualified legal counsel.
