Austin is not only the state capitol, it also is a vibrant center of software, semiconductor, Internet and healthcare technology, world-class education and research institutions, culture and creativity, and a home for diverse businesses that build on those strengths. Haynes Boone's Austin attorneys assist a wide range of companies, including some of Austin's best known, with their legal needs in Central Texas and beyond. From Central Texas stalwarts Dell, Rackspace, Freescale Semiconductor, Trilogy/Versata and Alamo Draffhouse, to international juggernauts, such as AT&T, Hilton Worldwide, Qualcomm and TSMC, our Austin attorneys have the skills and experience to assist your business with a diverse range of practices.

Our lawyers are well attuned to the nuances of practicing in front of the many regulatory agencies that are headquartered in Austin.

Our attorneys are active in the intellectual property, environmental, media, insurance coverage and franchise law fields. They also serve on boards and are active in the community with business and non-profit groups and programs such the Austin Bar Foundation, Austin Chamber of Commerce, Austin Association of Corporate Counsel, Texas General Counsel Forum, Communities in Schools, United Way, and Western Hill Little League.
