

Distressed Transactions Digest – September 2026

By Ingrid Bagby, Eli Columbus, Neal M. Kaminsky, Michele Maman | September 24, 2026

RELATED PRACTICES Distressed Transactions

Welcome to the inaugural issue of the Haynes Boone Distressed Transactions Practice Group newsletter, featuring recent matters, market insights and recognitions.

Distressed transactions are rarely confined to one legal lane. Assets, debt, contracts, counterparties, litigation risk and business continuity must be managed together. Haynes Boone's Distressed Transactions Practice Group brings together restructuring, finance, M&A, real estate, litigation and industry experience to help clients assess risk, protect value and pursue opportunities in stressed and distressed situations.

The group combines Haynes Boone's longstanding strength in asset-intensive sectors, including energy, engineering and construction, aviation and manufacturing, with experience in complex capital structures, private credit, financial institutions, derivatives, structured products, retail, consumer brands and cross-border matters.

The team advises clients on restructurings, loan workouts, liability management transactions, distressed lending and M&A, claims trading, creditor representations, related litigation, and swaps and derivatives strategies.

Read the September 2026 Distressed Transactions Digest newsletter.