Welcome to the Shipping and Energy: Year in Review 2024 from the London Office of Haynes Boone. We are excited to bring together the alerts, articles, publications, podcasts and videos that have featured in the newsletter throughout 2024. Once again, there is a fantastic range of interesting pieces. Like the newsletter, this publication is separated into five main sections covering shipping, offshore energy, renewable energy, dispute resolution and artificial intelligence. Each of these sections is introduced by members of the team, who reflect on the content in that section and provide you with their highlights from 2024.
