

Blikshteyn in WIPR on AI Executive Order's Effect on Patents

January 27, 2025 Dina Blikshteyn

PRACTICES AI and Deep Learning, Patents

President Trump's artificial intelligence executive order may cause a surge in AI patents as he aims to put the U.S. at the forefront of AI innovation. Haynes Boone Partner Dina Blikshteyn discussed further with World IP Review.

Read an excerpt here:

Dina Blikshteyn, partner at Haynes Boone, noted that with reduced federal regulation and substantial investment, "Trump appears to favor allowing AI technology to develop freely to gain a competitive edge over other nations."

"However, guardrails for AI regulation remain, as states will continue to enforce their own regulatory measures," she added.

Read the full article here.