

Caroline Ford Speaks With Law360 on Key CA Insurance Cases

May 9, 2025 Caroline Ford

PRACTICES Insurance Recovery

Haynes Boone Partner Caroline Ford spoke with Law360 on the evolving legal and insurance landscape for fire-related damage in California, where it is getting increasingly more difficult to get smoke damage claims, and on toxic soil remediation. Read an excerpt of the two articles below:

“Coverage Uncertain For LA Fire Soil Remediation, Pros Say”:

Caroline Ford, a Haynes Boone policyholder attorney, sees more coverage potential, saying the fire-related toxins are "all caused by or resulting from a covered cause of loss."

"I think it's not like a typical pollution type of situation," Ford told Law360.

“Smoke Concerns Persist Following Top Calif. Court Ruling”:

"There will be law that comes out of all this," said Caroline Ford, a California-based Haynes Boone policyholder attorney, in an interview with Law360. "There will be another opportunity to further clarify the import of those COVID cases on wildfire cases."