

Ricardo Garcia-Moreno in Houston Business Journal: Law Firm's New Houston Head Looks to Grow Office

By Ricardo Garcia-Moreno | January 18, 2019

RELATED PRACTICES Latin America Caribbean, Corporate, Mergers and Acquisitions, International

Houston Business Journal quoted Haynes Boone Partner Ricardo Garcia-Moreno in an article about his recent promotion to administrative partner of the firm's Houston office.

Here is an excerpt:

"My goal is to continue to grow the firm in the Houston area — continue to increase the reputation and help hire and attract great talent," Garcia-Moreno said.

Garcia-Moreno replaces Mark Trachtenberg — who is still a partner at the firm — for the role.

Garcia-Moreno has a background in energy law, along with cross-border mergers and acquisitions, securities law compliance and corporate governance, according to a Jan. 14 statement. That emphasis on cross-boarder deal-making is particularly relevant in an international city like Houston, Garcia-Moreno said.

"Almost every transaction we work on these days has an international flair," he said.

That could mean deals between entities based in other countries, but it could also mean those that involve international ownership or assets, Garcia-Moreno said.

Garcia-Moreno has been a Haynes Boone partner for nearly 11 years, prior to which he spent 11 years as an attorney with Winstead PC.

To read the full article, click here. (Subscription required)