Liza Mark in Law360: 'Shein's Pursuit Of London IPO Proves US-China Rift Persists'

By Liza L.S. Mark | June 11, 2024

RELATED PRACTICES Private Equity, International

Chief Representative and Shanghai Office Managing Partner Liza Mark was quoted in a Law360 article by Tom Zanki discussing the online fashion giant Shein's predicted pivot to London for its initial public offering, rather than the United States.

Read an excerpt of the article here:

"Less controversial, smaller companies that are under the radar will continue to list in the U.S., because that's where the highest valuation is," said Haynes Boone Partner Liza Mark, who advises cross-border securities involving China, Hong Kong and the U.S. "But larger, higher-growth companies — the ones in deep competition with the U.S. tech world — will weigh the geopolitical risks higher."

Read the full article here.

© 2026 Haynes and Boone, LLP