This May will mark three years since the tragic mass shooting at Robb Elementary in Uvalde. In a push for transparency on the police response, Brett Cross, the guardian of one of the children lost in the shooting, released a documentary on the shooting and the law enforcement response. Haynes Boone Partner and Media Practice Group Chair Laura Prather represents the media coalition still seeking the public records and recordings related to the response and investigation. She spoke to KSAT-TV in San Antonio about the ongoing effort.
