

Sencenbaugh in Law360: The Hottest Trends in Law Firm Design

February 23, 2024 Adam Sencenbaugh

Haynes Boone Partner Adam Sencenbaugh was quoted in a Law360 article on the trends surrounding the designs of new law firm offices. Read an excerpt below:

Sencenbaugh said both attendance and morale have been up since the move into the new downtown location in late December.

"With the end of the pandemic, you have people coming back to the office more, so we wanted to make the office more of a destination," Sencenbaugh said. "For the redesign, we wanted to do a lot of glass, a lot more natural light and more open spaces to give us a more inviting and collaborative space for our employees."

Another benefit is the building is next to the scenic 10-mile Lady Bird Lake hike and bike trail.

"I go out there and run on the trail all the time, and we have lots of other folks that do that as well in the office," he said.
