

HB Media Minute - Episode 16: The Supreme Court Continues to Take On Important Copyright Issues: A Look Back and a Look Forward

August 26, 2021 Jason Bloom

PRACTICES Media Entertainment and Sports, Intellectual Property, Copyright, Intellectual Property Litigation, Media and Entertainment Litigation

Today, we are going to talk about the U.S. Supreme Court's recent foray into copyright law, in the closely followed Google v. Oracle case from its prior term, and we will preview a case on the Court's 2021-2022 docket that will again delve into copyright law.

We have two guides today: Partner Jason Bloom, a returning guest to the podcast, and Chair of the firm's Copyright Practice Group. Jason has litigated a wide variety of copyright disputes throughout the country. He is joined by Abbey Gauger, an associate in Haynes Boone's New York Office, who has handled a range of high-profile litigation in both federal and state courts in New York.