

David Clark Named to 2019 Southern California Rising Stars List

June 3, 2019 David Clark

PRACTICES Intellectual Property Litigation, Intellectual Property, Litigation

Southern California Super Lawyers has recognized Haynes Boone Associate David Clark in its 2019 Southern California Rising Stars directory, published by Thomson Reuters.

The Southern California Rising Stars selections are compiled through peer nominations and research. Lawyers chosen are 40 or younger or have been practicing for less than 10 years. Only 2 percent of young lawyers in Southern California are selected for the distinction.

Clark is an associate in the Litigation Practice Group in the firm's Orange County office. His experience encompasses a range of complex business and intellectual property litigation, including trade secret claims, licensing matters, fiduciary duty actions, contract disputes, and patent litigation. He has represented clients in various industries, including software, semiconductors, biotech, apparel, and real estate.
