Haynes Boone Associate Colin Giuseppe Cox has been named to the Board of Directors of the Miami-Dade Bar Association and co-chair of its International Law Committee.

Colin is a member of the firm's International Practice Group who is licensed to practice in both Florida and Texas. This month he was also appointed as Secretary and Treasurer of the Business Law Section of the State Bar of Texas.

"We are excited that Colin has been recognized for his leadership in these international business law organizations," said Partner Larry Pascal, chair of the Americas Practice Group and co-chair of the International Practice Group.

Colin's practice focuses on international corporate matters and cross-border projects, including cross-border investments, financing, project development, and negotiations. He regularly helps clients in domestic and international mergers and acquisitions, private equity, and capital market transactions, and he has particular expertise with projects involving Latin America and Europe. Colin has lived and worked extensively in both regions and speaks French, Italian, Portuguese, and Spanish.

Additionally, Colin also represents clients before the Committee on Foreign Investment in the United States (CFIUS) and helps them assess whether CFIUS has jurisdiction over their transactions.

Colin's practice covers a large range of industries, and he has extensive legal and business experience in the real estate, banking, capital markets, energy, aviation, hospitality and CBD/hemp sectors. He has represented clients for a variety of foreign markets.

He also serves as a member of the Board and Secretary of the International Law Section of the Dallas Bar Association and a member of the National Italian American Bar Association.

Haynes Boone has a long history of lawyers who are active in international law at the state and national levels.
