Patexia Inc. has ranked Haynes Boone among the nation's top 50 firms representing complainants in International Trade Commission (ITC) Section 337 matters.

In its fourth annual ITC Intelligence Report, which surveyed 416 ITC investigations from Jan. 1, 2017, to Dec. 31, 2022, Patexia ranked Haynes Boone among the "most active" and "best performing" firms representing complainants in Section 337 proceedings.

Founded in 2010 to bring transparency to intellectual property, Patexia continuously evaluates thousands of law firms and tens of thousands of attorneys by their activity and performance in all areas of IP.

Haynes Boone's ITC Practice Group has successfully prepared and tried scores of Section 337 investigation trials and hearings before the ITC. The group includes a former head of the ITC's Section 337 legal office as well as lawyers who have represented numerous Fortune 500 companies in more than 30 different investigations. The team has in-depth experience with a wide range of technologies and products, from chemicals and pharmaceuticals, to semiconductors, software and smartphones.

Haynes Boone is an international corporate law firm with 19 offices spanning Texas, New York, California, Charlotte, Chicago, Denver, Virginia, Washington, D.C., London, Mexico City and Shanghai, providing a full spectrum of legal services in energy, technology, financial services and private equity. With about 650 lawyers, Haynes Boone is ranked among the largest U.S.-based firms by The National Law Journal, The American Lawyer and The Lawyer. It was recognized in the BTI Consulting Group's 2022 "A-Team" report, which identifies the law firms that in-house counsel commend for providing superior client service.
