Haynes Boone has released the latest edition of the firm's alumni magazine, HB Connections, which features articles showcasing the rich diversity of our alumni community.

In it, you will read about professionals like Sean Perryman, director of algorithmic fairness at Uber, who is moving the needle in diversity, equity, and inclusion while delving into the field of artificial intelligence, and Brad Adams, who turned a career in estate planning into advocacy for organ donation. Brad is CEO of Southwest Transplant Alliance. Don't miss the Q&A with Marty Lundstrom, executive vice president and general counsel of Shell Energy Solutions in Houston. Marty shares her wisdom on the "importance of relationships built on trust" and how she turns her passion for performing into a way to benefit legal charities in Houston.

As always, you can read about a returning lawyer in The Roots Run Deep, which features associate Carlos Alva, who recently rejoined our Mexico City office.

Managing Partner Taylor Wilson noted the common theme in this edition of the magazine.

"These profiles, along with the other news and notes in this issue, speak powerfully to the spirit, dynamism, and diversity of our wonderful firm," he wrote.
