Haynes Boone Fund Finance Partner Holly Loftis has earned her second 40 under 40 award for 2023, as Private Equity International (“PEI”) has included her in its prestigious 40 Under 40: Future Leaders of Private Equity, class of 2023 released on May 2, 2023.

This annual list celebrates emerging talent in the private equity class and highlights individuals set to play a leading role in the PE market in the years ahead. The 40 PE professionals must be below the age of 40 and are selected by PEI based on the following criteria:

- Evidence of leadership and innovation;
- Caliber of the clients attorneys have worked with and the deals they have generated; and
- Whether they possess an “X factor” that marks them as a future leader in private equity.

The recipients are categorized as investors, dealmakers, fundraisers, operators and lawyers. In addition to Holly being named to the lawyer category, this year’s distinguished class includes winners from Ares Management, Partners Group, Apollo Global Management, Blackstone, Hamilton Lane, and EQT Partners.

“I’m so proud of Holly and happy for her to receive this recognition,” said Haynes Boone Fund Finance Co-Head Ellen McGinnis. “She does incredible work for our fund finance clients, and she’s not just a future leader in this industry, but also a current leader within our practice group and in important industry organizations like Women in Fund Finance.”

This recognition follows Holly’s inclusion last month in Secured Finance Network’s (SFNet) 2023 40 Under 40 Awards, which honors the “movers and shakers who exemplify true excellence in their careers and who also contribute to their communities and the industry as a whole.” SFNet’s 40 Under 40 recipients are the future of the secured finance community.”
