The Secured Finance Network (SFNet) has selected Haynes Boone Partner Holly Loftis for its 2023 40 under 40 Awards.

Recipients of the honor, SFNet said, are “movers and shakers who exemplify true excellence in their careers and who also contribute to their communities and the industry as a whole. SFNet’s 40 Under 40 recipients are the future of the secured finance community.”

The honorees were selected by a panel of judges drawn from leading banks and law firms and will be celebrated at an awards dinner that will be held in June at the Plaza Hotel in New York City

Holly is a partner in the Finance Practice Group in Haynes Boone’s Charlotte and New York offices. She is a trusted advisor to banks and other financial institutions on the structuring, negotiation and documentation of subscription credit facilities, other secured and unsecured lending arrangements, management fee lines, GP lines, employee co-invest loans and other fund finance products. Holly also routinely advises on subscription lines of credit for separately managed accounts, joint venture vehicles, open-ended funds and other bespoke fund structures. Her practice includes diligence, advice and problem-solving solutions regarding issues arising under the documentation governing private investment vehicles, including governing agreements, investor side letters and investor subscription documentation.

Haynes Boone’s Finance Practice Group develops innovative and sophisticated financing vehicles that factor in your risk tolerance and your business strategy. The team takes a pragmatic approach, clearing the roadblocks on clients’ paths to success. The group was ranked among the best in Texas and North Carolina in the Chambers USA 2022 directory (Chambers & Partners). Chambers lauded the group as “well-versed in handling matters such as complex project financings, syndicated loan transactions and equity lending.”
