Haynes Boone welcomes 34 new associates from 20 law schools to eight offices: Charlotte, Dallas, Houston, New York, Northern Virginia, Orange County, San Francisco and Washington, D.C.

In line with the firm's commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion, 73% of this year's class meets the Mansfield Rule criteria, with 50% identifying as racially or ethnically diverse and 23% as LGBTQ+. The class is also impressively multilingual, with members fluent in languages including Cantonese, Mandarin, French, Spanish, Hindi and Portuguese.

This group brings unique experiences, including a former professional soccer player from Brazil, a former White House employee and a gospel choir director.

Watch the video below to meet our new lawyers and learn more about the talents they bring to Haynes Boone!
