September 27, 2021 Jennifer Passagne

PRACTICES Investment Banking and Broker Dealer, Finance, Private Equity

Haynes Boone welcomes banking and finance lawyer Jennifer Passagne as counsel in the firm's growing London office.

Formerly with Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP in London, Jennifer focuses on domestic and cross-border acquisition and leveraged finance for private equity sponsors, alternative investment funds, banks and corporate clients. She advises borrowers and creditors at all levels of the capital structure. She also advises on fund finance, restructurings and general banking matters.

"Jennifer is a valuable addition to our finance team and will further amplify our strong international finance practice," said Emma Russell, partner and head of the Finance Practice Group in the London office of Haynes Boone.

Lawyers in the firm's Finance Practice Group have decades of experience in fund finance, acquisition finance, refinancings, corporate facilities, real estate finance and financial institutions lending (including non-bank lenders and insurance), in each case across a range of industry sectors. It regularly advises financial sponsors, lenders, borrowers, investors, fund managers, and central banks in relation to those core areas.

Haynes Boone is an international corporate law firm with offices in London, Texas, New York, California, Charlotte, Chicago, Denver, Washington, D.C., Mexico City, and Shanghai, providing a full spectrum of legal services in energy, technology, financial services and private equity. With 600 lawyers, Haynes Boone is ranked among the largest U.S.-based firms by The National Law Journal, The American Lawyer and The Lawyer. It was recognized for excellence in the BTI Consulting Group's 2021 "A-Team" report, which identifies the law firms that in-house counsel commend for providing superior client service.
