Managing Intellectual Property ranked Haynes Boone Tier 1 nationwide in PTAB Litigation law firm in 2022. Haynes Boone is one of only six firms in the top tier for PTAB Litigation.

The publication ranks lawyers and firms based on research and market and client feedback about a range of criteria, including practitioners' depth of experience and track records of wins and losses.

Additionally, Managing IP ranked Haynes Boone Partner Eugene Goryunov as a nationwide Patent Star in 2022.

Managing IP defines an IP Star as "an experienced senior IP practitioner in private practice, typically a partner, who has been recommended by peers and/or clients or someone that is integral to the success of their firm."

Eugene is the IPR Team Lead and Administrative Partner of the Chicago office of Haynes Boone. He is an experienced trial lawyer that represents clients in complex patent matters involving technologies from consumer goods to high technology, networking, and wireless telephony to medical devices and therapeutics. He has experience and regularly serves as first-chair trial counsel in post-grant review trials (IPR and PGR) on behalf of both Petitioners and Patent Owners at the USPTO. Eugene is also involved as trial counsel in all aspects of cases in Federal courts around the country, Section 337 investigations at the USITC, and in appeals at the Federal Circuit.

Since the America Invents Act's new post-grant procedures were implemented in 2012, Haynes Boone's IP Practice has been a leader in helping clients protect their patents and invalidate others' claims at the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office (USPTO). These trial proceedings include inter partes review (IPR), covered business method (CBM) review, post-grant review (PGR), and other proceedings before the Patent Trial and Appeal Board (PTAB). Haynes Boone is a top 10 law firm filing IPRs on behalf of the Petitioner, with an institution rate of 78% and a final decision rate of 82% for canceling claims (Docket Alarm, 2022).
