Michael Boone, Taylor Wilson and Janice Davis Recognized in D CEO's 2027 Dallas 500

November 18, 2026

RELATED PRACTICES Corporate, Mergers and Acquisitions

Three Haynes Boone attorneys have been named to D CEO Magazine's 2027 Dallas 500, which highlights influential leaders from across the Dallas-Fort Worth business community.

This year's honorees include firm Co-Founder Michael Boone, recognized in the Living Legends category; Chair and Firmwide Managing Partner Taylor Wilson, recognized among Law: Managing Partners; and Corporate Partner Janice Davis, recognized in the Law: Mergers and Acquisitions.

The 2027 edition marks another year of recognition for all three Haynes Boone attorneys. Boone and Wilson have each been included for six consecutive years, while Davis returns for her second year on the list.

Michael Boone | Living Legends

Boone's inclusion in the Living Legends category recognizes his lasting influence on both the legal profession and the North Texas business community. A co-founder of Haynes Boone, he has spent more than four decades advising clients on mergers and acquisitions, corporate finance, securities transactions and board governance matters. In 2024, he was inducted into the Texas Business Hall of Fame, and in 2023 he was named to D Magazine's Hall of Fame after being recognized among Dallas' top lawyers for more than 15 years.

Taylor Wilson | Law: Managing Partners

Wilson was recognized in the Law: Managing Partners category for his leadership of Haynes Boone and his distinguished corporate practice. Since becoming firmwide managing partner in 2021, he has helped guide the firm's continued growth while advising clients on corporate and securities matters, private equity transactions, mergers and acquisitions and investment management issues. Wilson also serves on the executive committees of the Dallas Regional Chamber and the Center for American and International Law.

Janice Davis | Law: Mergers and Acquisitions

Returning to the Dallas 500 for the second consecutive year, Davis was recognized in the Law: Mergers and Acquisitions category. She advises public and private companies, investors and private equity sponsors on complex corporate transactions, including mergers and acquisitions, joint ventures, divestitures, private placements, spinouts and recapitalizations. Her work has earned significant recognition, including being named 2025 Attorney of the Year by D CEO and the Association for Corporate Growth Dallas/Fort Worth.

© 2026 Haynes and Boone, LLP