Twenty-five winners will receive their awards during an in-person event Aug. 24 at the Dallas Fairmount and will be featured in a special DBJ publication on Sept. 3.

"Purvi is a leader who challenges the status quo and is always looking for better ways to run our business," Haynes Boone Partner Jeff Becker stated in nominating Purvi for the honor. "She never overlooks problems, but instead calls them out and then works with others to find solutions."

Albers is a member of the firm's board of directors and serves as trusted adviser and counsel to Fortune 500 companies and high-growth ventures on the management of their valuable brand investments. Her primary practice focus includes: U.S. and foreign trademark clearance, protection and enforcement strategy; U.S. and foreign trademark and internet enforcement, including oppositions, cancellations and Uniform Dispute Resolution Proceedings (UDRP) disputes; social media counseling and enforcement; and copyright, trade dress, non-traditional trademark and customs counseling and enforcement.

In June, Managing Intellectual Property Magazine named Albers among the Top 250 Women in IP in 2021. She was also recently recommended in the Legal 500 directory for Trademarks: Non-Contentious (including Prosecution, Portfolio Management and Licensing) and ranked by Chambers USA (Chambers and Partners) for IP: Trademark & Copyright (Texas). In May, World IP Review listed her among the nation's leading trademark and patent lawyers for 2021. In addition, Managing IP ranks Albers as an IP Star (Trademark) in Texas.
