After just three months at Haynes Boone, Partner Randy Peak has been named Co-Chair of the firm's Healthcare and Life Sciences Practice Group.

Randy joined the firm in August, supporting the Healthcare, Life Sciences and Pharmaceuticals Practice Groups and Precision Medicine and Digital Health group. He serves alongside Bill Morrison to co-lead the national healthcare practice.

"In just a short time, Randy has greatly enhanced our ability to advise clients on their most significant transactions, cases and regulatory concerns," Bill said. "He has been a practical and strategic legal advisor in the healthcare, life sciences and technology sectors for decades and leverages extensive industry background and multidisciplinary experience."

Randy counsels and represents clients ranging from multinational Fortune 100 enterprises to start-ups on healthcare regulatory compliance and transactional matters. He routinely counsels clients on matters relating to fraud and abuse prohibitions, healthcare privacy, telemedicine, revenue cycle management, healthcare related licensing, outsourcing, strategic affiliations, and compliance with state corporate practice of medicine laws. Randy's healthcare industry experience also includes serving as general counsel for a nationally recognized independent academic health system and deputy general counsel for one of the country's largest healthcare supply chain, clinical consulting, and technology services organizations. In the technology sector, Randy's in-house experience includes representing a global provider of software and technology where he negotiated numerous multi-million dollar commercial technology transactions worldwide.

Randy's clients include hospitals and health systems, physician groups, urgent care clinics, medical spas, health and wellness providers, clinical labs, AI and emerging healthcare technology companies, digital health vendors, healthcare data and analytics companies, healthcare supply chain distributors, medical device manufacturers, group purchasing organizations, health benefit management vendors, retailers, senior and assisted living real estate developers, clinical research organizations, financial institutions, revenue cycle management service providers, private equity investors and portfolio companies, and joint ventures.

Over the past three years, Randy's co-chair colleague Bill has helped manage a growing team of about 40 lawyers nationwide who advise clients across all sectors of the healthcare industry on business transactions, regulatory compliance, government investigations, patent litigation and counseling, as well as a host of issues arising from the COVID-19 pandemic. The group collaborates closely with the Precision Medicine and Digital Health Practice Group to counsel corporations, technology startups, non-profit research institutions, universities, hospital systems, pharmaceuticals, and investors supporting the industry.
