

Honoring our Nations Veterans - November 2022

November 13, 2022 Alexander Clark

An interview with General Joseph L. Votel, U.S. Army (Ret.)

We reflected on a veterans' service to our nation, General Votel provided insights on leadership and shared experiences and lessons learned from a career spanning four decades of military service—including leading the military's largest command, supporting the integration of women into Special Operations, and now today as a leader in the business world.
