

Carlos Alva

Associate

Carlos.Alva@haynesboone.com

Mexico City

+52.55.5249.1868

PRACTICES International, Mexico, Energy, Power and Natural Resources, Latin America and the Caribbean

Carlos Alva is an associate in the International Practice Group in Haynes Boone's Mexico City office. His practice focuses on energy, regulatory and financial transactions.

QUALIFICATIONS

EDUCATION

- Postgraduate Degree, Energy Law, Escuela Libre de Derecho, 2017
- Law Degree, Universidad Panamericana, 2016

LANGUAGES

- Spanish

ADMISSIONS

- Mexico
-

PUBLICATIONS AND SPEAKING ENGAGEMENTS

- "Will the Mexican Government Be Able to Rescue Pemex?" commentator, Latin America Energy Advisor, February 17, 2023.
-

SELECTED CLIENT REPRESENTATIONS

- Provide legal advice on corporate and regulatory energy matters, including: oil and gas (upstream, midstream and downstream), power and renewable energy projects, government procurement and environmental.

- Represent an international oil company in order to process and obtain all applicable permits for a Floating, Production, Storage and Offloading Unit (“FPSO”) in order to operate in a contractual area in the Gulf of Mexico.
- Represent multiple clients in the public bids corresponding to Round 1 and Round 2 called by the National Hydrocarbons Commission (CNH) for the award of E&P contracts.
- Represent clients in the long term auctions called by CENACE for the award of PPA for the purchase and sale of power, capacity and clean energy certificates.
- Represent traders and power generators in the new wholesale electricity market.
- Represent foreign companies in the provision of transportation, storage, distribution, trading and retail services of oil products.
- Represent new participants in the open seasons called by Pemex for the use of its storage facilities and transportation pipelines.
- Represented a Fortune 500 company opening its first branded gas stations in Mexico.