

Miller Bacon

Associate

Dallas

Miller.Bacon@haynesboone.com

+1 214.651.5216

RELATED PRACTICES Anti-SLAPP and First Amendment Rights, Chemical, Intellectual Property Litigation, International Trade Commission Section 337 Proceedings, Life Sciences, Employment Litigation, Trademark Litigation, Trade Secret Litigation, Healthcare and Life Sciences, Biotechnology, Biosimilars

Miller Bacon is an associate in the Intellectual Property Litigation Practice Group at Haynes Boone's Dallas office. His experience includes matters involving patent infringement, trade secrets, defamation, wrongful death claims, and other complex commercial disputes.

Before joining Haynes Boone, Miller gained experience at law firms in Washington, D.C., and Houston. He researched and drafted pleadings and motions, participated in settlement negotiations, assessed a claimed discovery as a potential trade secret, and analyzed scientific issues in connection with a contract bid appeal. His work also included drafting a motion opposing transfer of venue in a patent infringement case and a motion to remove a matter to the Texas Business Court.

Miller also developed substantial courtroom experience through the Albemarle County Commonwealth Attorney's Office, where he first-chaired 28 bench trials. He argued matters involving criminal charges, bail, sentencing, conducted direct and cross-examinations of expert witnesses and advocated for victims in protective-order proceedings.

Miller earned his J.D. from the University of Virginia School of Law, where he served as a teaching assistant for Evidence, a research assistant to Prof. Elizabeth Rowe focused on trade secrets, and an editor for the Virginia Law and Business Review and the Virginia Law and Tax Review. He earned bachelor's degrees in biochemistry and history, summa cum laude, from the University of Arkansas.

PROFESSIONAL AFFILIATIONS AND ENGAGEMENTS

- Drafting and Scope Committee for Uniform Trade Secrets Act (UTSA), Uniform Law Commission, Student-Drafting Member, 2024-2026
-

QUALIFICATIONS

EDUCATION

- J.D., University of Virginia School of Law, 2026,
Virginia Law and Business Review, Articles Editor and Senior Editorial Board; Virginia Law and Tax Review, Senior Editorial Board Member
- B.A., Biochemistry and History, University of Arkansas, 2023, summa cum laude