Katherine Baker is a patent agent in the Intellectual Property Practice Group at Haynes Boone's New York office. Katherine leverages her background in computer and electrical engineering to prepare and prosecute U.S. and foreign patent applications involving complex software, hardware, and emerging technology innovations.

Drawing on her experience as a technical advisor and her longstanding interest in patent law, Katherine assists clients in protecting cutting-edge inventions across a wide range of computer-implemented and apparatus-based technologies. Her prior work at both full-service and boutique law firms provided her with broad exposure to prosecution strategies for software systems, computer hardware, and household appliances, among others.
