PRACTICES Criminal Investigations and Defense, Antitrust and Competition, Financial Services Investigations and Enforcement, Healthcare Fraud and Abuse, Crisis Management, Internal Investigations, SEC Enforcement, Foreign Corrupt Practices Act (FCPA), Trials, Healthcare and Life Sciences, Intellectual Property, Litigation, White Collar and Investigations

J. Nicholas Bunch is a Chambers-rated partner in Haynes Boone’s White Collar and Investigations practice. Described by peers and clients as “fantastic on all fronts” and “very good with clients, very knowledgeable and a great writer,” Nick brings an insider’s perspective on how the government investigates and prosecutes white-collar criminal and civil matters. Nick gained that unique perspective over nearly 11 years at the U.S. Attorney’s Office for the Northern District of Texas where he investigated, prosecuted, tried and supervised every type of white-collar case imaginable, including securities fraud, healthcare fraud, accounting fraud, tax, embezzlement, cybercrime, public corruption and intellectual property offenses.

Nick’s deep and broad government experience makes him distinctively situated to represent professionals and corporate clients in high-stakes criminal and civil investigations. Nick understands how a government attorney approaches an investigation and knows how to actively stop it before it gains momentum and results in public charges against his clients. He also has an innate appreciation for the collateral consequences of white-collar matters, which often arise in multiple legal forums—criminal, civil, administrative, and regulatory—and understands how to successfully navigate each of those forums to provide his clients with a comprehensive resolution that minimizes the impact to their businesses and reputations.

SELECTED CLIENT REPRESENTATIONS

- Hired just as FBI agents were entering a Dallas-based hedge fund's office to execute a search warrant, Haynes Boone's team of lawyers successfully navigated a complex parallel DOJ/SEC investigation with allegations of improper short selling and insider trading, resulting in a full declination by both DOJ and SEC.
- When an anesthesiologist was tainting IV bags at an ambulatory surgery center in Dallas, Texas, Haynes Boone successfully led the facility through the criminal investigation, prosecution, and trial of the anesthesiologist, resulting in his conviction and imposition of a 190-year sentence.
- Successfully defended a former executive at a family office in parallel investigations by the U.S. Attorney's Office for the Southern District of New York, the Department of Justice Antitrust Division, the Securities and Exchange Commission, and the Commodities Futures Trading Commission, resulting in no charges by any law enforcement agency.
- On behalf of a health-care company and its president and Chief Executive Officer, navigated a complex, multi-year investigation by the Internal Revenue Service – Criminal Investigation Division and the Department of Labor Office of Inspector General into allegations of fraud relating to insurance products, resulting in no charges.
- When a retail transportation company received a Grand Jury Subpoena that covered all aspects of its business, a Haynes Boone team quickly mobilized a response that included negotiating a far smaller scope to the document subpoena, significant cost savings to the client, and within a few months a full declination from the U.S. Attorney's Office for the Southern District of California.
- After a lengthy fight and significant litigation with the U.S. Attorney's Office for the Western District of Texas, successfully defended an executive in the automotive industry facing fraud charges and loss calculations well over $30 million, resulting in a sentence far less than what the government initially demanded.
- Negotiated a complex resolution of charges in a $50 million bust-out case on behalf of a foreign national, including voluntary extradition from a foreign country and resulting in the shortest sentence of any the charged defendants.
- Ongoing representation of a Fortune 10 company in a food-safety investigation by the Federal Drug Administration Office of Inspector General and United States Department of Justice.
- Ongoing defense of a company and its principals in a money laundering investigation by the U.S. Attorney's Office for the Eastern District of New York and the Department of Justice Money Laundering and Asset Recovery Section ("MLARs") relating to the airline industry.
- Ongoing defense of a Dallas-based publicly traded company under criminal investigation for accounting and disclosure violations by the U.S. Attorney's Office for the Southern District of New York.
- Ongoing defense of the Chief Executive Officer of a medical equipment company facing allegations of healthcare fraud.

- Secured dismissal of all criminal charges in multi-million dollar PPP fraud case on behalf of Chief Operating Officer in Northern District of Texas.
