ADMISSIONS

- Texas

For more than 25 years, Haynes and Boone commercial clients have looked to Jeffrey L. Curtis for his experience in a wide variety of their domestic and international transactional matters, all with a careful eye to balancing the client's objectives with the cost of transaction. Jeff has developed extensive experience in borrower and lender representation in all forms of commercial finance transactions.

Jeff has structured, negotiated and documented corporate and middle-market syndicated and commercial credits, problem loan workouts, restructurings, enforcement actions, and settlements. He has been equally as involved in debt sales and acquisitions, as well as equipment leasing/financing transactions.

Prior to attending law school, Jeff was a professional staff member of an international accounting firm. He is a frequent lecturer on secured transactions under the UCC and a Licensed Certified Public Accountant within the state of Texas.
