Ashleigh Gibbs is a Professional Landman in the Energy Practice Group of Haynes and Boone's Houston office with over 10 years' experience in energy finance projects involving both midstream and upstream assets. As an integral member of the Energy Practice Group, Ashleigh has overseen title review for hundreds of Energy lending deals totaling over a billion dollars. She is experienced in designing and executing due diligence plans for acquisitions, divestitures, and financial transactions; preparing documents, conducting lien and contract analysis, handling multi-jurisdictional filing projects, including the BLM, BOEM, BIA at the federal level and various state and county and parish level agencies. In addition, Ashleigh has experience assisting in renewable and real estate projects, as well as bankruptcies for the firm's Oil and Gas clients. When requested, Ashleigh has run land departments for non-op upstream energy companies.

Ashleigh was born in Houston, Texas and is a graduate of The University of Texas at Austin. She is a third generation landman following in her parents and grandfather's footsteps. Prior to joining Haynes and Boone, Ashleigh worked in-house for independent energy companies, including EOG Resources and Anadarko Petroleum Company.

Ashleigh is an active member in the American Association of Professional Landmen and the Houston Association of Professional Landmen, serving on committees focused on continuing education for Landmen. Ashleigh has completed the AAPL Renewable Energy Certificate Program.
