RELATED PRACTICES Corporate, Mergers and Acquisitions, Private Equity

Adam Harrison is an associate in the Corporate and Private Equity Practice Groups in Haynes Boone's Houston office. Adam advises clients on mergers, acquisitions, and general corporate matters.

Before starting his legal career, Adam worked in business tax services at a global accounting firm, where he handled tax compliance and transactional matters for clients. A licensed certified public accountant in Texas, Adam draws on his accounting and tax background to bring a practical, business-oriented perspective to private equity and other corporate transactions.
