PRACTICES Intellectual Property, Patents, Patent Prosecution and Counseling, Patent Office Trials, Technology Transactions, Technology, Streaming Media

Scott Jarratt helps clients both obtain and defend against technology-intensive patents. Drawing upon his industry experience, Scott serves as lead counsel in inter partes review proceedings (IPRs) and helps resolve patent disputes across numerous technological fields including wireless telecommunications and consumer electronics.

Patent Post-Grant Proceedings

Recognized as one of the “Top 50 Best Performing Attorneys representing Petitioners,” Scott has counseled clients in dozens of IPRs and other post-grant proceedings before the Patent Trial and Appeal Board. His deep technical understanding and hands-on advocacy has resulted in successful outcomes for several prominent technology companies involved in high-stakes disputes.

Patent Portfolio Evaluation and Prosecution

Scott also advises clients, both large and small, on patent portfolio matters and patent prosecution strategies. For example, he counsels clients through licensing conflicts by developing technical invalidity and non-infringement positions to drive favorable results. Scott has also prepared and prosecuted patent applications in a broad range of technological areas and advised clients building patent portfolios.

Technical Experience

Scott’s technical experience includes standards-essential wireless telecommunications (e.g., LTE, UMTS), mobile applications and devices, HEVC (H.265), navigation systems, semiconductor devices and manufacturing, cloud computing, multimedia streaming, and medical devices.

Prior to attending law school, Scott was a software engineer at a Fortune 50 technology company where he developed enterprise security solutions.
