PRACTICES Litigation, Labor and Employment, Intellectual Property Litigation, Digital Asset and Cryptocurrency Litigation

Alex Larkin is an integral part of the Haynes Boone litigation team in New York. Having honed her litigation skills early on at an internationally-recognized firm, Alex has represented some of the world's largest businesses in a wide range of litigations pending before both the federal and state courts of New York, as well as in various arbitration forums.

Alex's practice includes complex commercial, employment, and intellectual property litigation. She also represents several pro bono clients in death row and asylum cases. Alex is prepared to represent clients at all stages of litigation, from pre-litigation counseling through motion practice and trial.

Alex is a member of the New York Women's Bar Association. She graduated summa cum laude, Order of the Coif, from Rutgers School of Law where she was a member of the Rutgers Law Review, the Rutgers National Mock Trial Team and co-chair of the Moot Court Board.
