PRACTICES Tax, Corporate Tax, Mergers and Acquisitions, Private Equity, Joint Ventures, Capital Markets and Securities, Finance, Tax-Exempt Organizations and Private Foundations

Danielle Marr is a counsel in the Tax Practice Group in Haynes Boone's Dallas office. Her practice focuses on federal income tax aspects of business transactions, including taxable and tax-free mergers and acquisitions, partnership formations, joint ventures, corporate reorganizations, public and private offerings, and real estate acquisitions and dispositions. Danielle provides tax planning and structuring advice for a variety of clients involved in a broad range of industries, including limited liability companies, partnerships, private and publicly held corporations, financial institutions, REITs, and other business entities, as well as individuals. She regularly advises private equity funds and their portfolio companies, as well as investors, rollover sellers and management teams. Danielle has extensive experience negotiating and drafting complex tax provisions in purchase agreements, partnership and LLC agreements, credit agreements, and escrow arrangements. She also provides tax planning and advice relating to ongoing governance and operations following a client's initial formation or significant business transaction.
