Timothy Piscatelli advises investment managers on the full lifecycle of private investment funds, with a primary focus on fund structuring and formation. Timothy represents private investment funds spanning the liquidity spectrum, including private equity funds, credit funds, hedge funds, and other private funds. He counsels clients on the structuring, formation, and operation of funds as well as on bespoke strategic arrangements, such as seed transactions, co-investment vehicles, joint ventures, and “funds of one.”

Timothy regularly guides clients through complex regulatory and compliance matters involving the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission and self-regulatory organizations. His practice spans day-to-day compliance counseling, responses to regulatory inquiries, and preparedness for and management of examinations. Drawing on deep familiarity with fund operations and the regulatory landscape, he delivers practical, business-oriented advice that anticipates regulatory expectations while enabling clients to seize opportunities in dynamic markets.
