RELATED PRACTICES Insurance Recovery, Litigation

Malik Price is an associate in the Insurance Recovery Practice Group in Haynes Boone's Dallas office. He assists clients throughout the litigation process, drawing on experience drafting memoranda in support of motions, reviewing agreements and opposing counsel's responses, and researching issues related to motion practice, public disclosures, and trial preparation.

Malik has also participated in depositions, document review, and federal court proceedings. Through his clinical work, he communicated directly with clients to identify their objectives and determine the scope and strategy of their representations. He also researched immigration and criminal justice laws and policies and argued before an immigration court.

Malik received his J.D. from Texas A&M University School of Law, where he served as Senior Staff of the Texas A&M Law Review. He won Best Brief and advanced to the quarterfinals at a national moot court competition. Malik earned his B.A. in law, history, and culture from the University of Southern California.
