Daniel Rounds represents clients in construction and government contract matters. He advises contractors on a wide range of federal and state procurement, regulatory compliance, and grant issues, particularly those relating to construction and to Buy American, Build America Buy America, and other domestic preference regulations. Daniel also assists clients with change negotiations, requests for equitable adjustment, claim preparation, and termination settlement negotiations. He litigates complex federal contract and construction disputes, and he has represented clients in Federal and State courts, in Federal and State Boards of Contract Appeals, in domestic arbitration, and in international arbitration under the International Chamber of Commerce and the International Centre for Dispute Resolution.

Daniel served on the Board of Governors of the Virginia State Bar, Construction Law and Public Contracts Section from 2017-2023, and he is a frequent speaker and contributor to construction and government contract law publications. He has also been recognized by The Best Lawyers in America: Ones to Watch, Woodward/White, Inc., in Construction Law and Litigation – Construction since 2022.
