

David Zhou

Associate
Charlotte

David.Zhou@haynesboone.com

+1 980.771.8257

PRACTICES Finance, Private Credit Finance

David Zhou is an associate in the Finance Practice Group in Haynes Boone's Charlotte office.

David represents banks and direct lenders in secured and unsecured, syndicated and bilateral senior lending transactions.

David's practice encompasses both middle-market and investment-grade financings for public, private, and sponsor portfolio companies spanning a broad range of industries, including healthcare, consumer products, technology, insurance and manufacturing.

QUALIFICATIONS

EDUCATION

- J.D., Harvard Law School, 2020
- M.Acc., University of Michigan, 2014
- B.S., Cornell University, 2013

ADMISSIONS

- North Carolina
 - New York
-

SELECTED CLIENT REPRESENTATIONS

- Assisted with the representation of the left lead arranger and administrative agent in connection with a $165 million secured credit facility to finance the acquisition of a health care services provider by a financial sponsor.
- Assisted with the representation of the left lead arranger and administrative agent in connection with a $150 million secured credit facility for an international syrup manufacturer.
- Assisted with the representation of the left lead arranger and administrative agent in connection with a $112.5 million secured credit facility for a regulated financial services firm.

- Assisted with the representation of the left lead arranger and administrative agent in connection with a $65 million secured credit facility for a home care services provider.
- Assisted with the representation of a private credit fund in connection with a $50 million secured term loan facility for a medical device company.
- Assisted with the representation of a private credit fund in connection with a $50 million secured term loan facility for a healthcare services company.