

Class Action Defense

Practices and Industries

PRIMARY CONTACTS

Our class action defense lawyers are set apart by their tenacity, creativity and exceptional track record. We are experienced defending all types of class action disputes, including securities, antitrust, cybersecurity, consumer, environmental, employment, healthcare, fiduciary and ERISA cases. We have successfully litigated class action disputes in jurisdictions across the country and against the most prominent plaintiffs' class action firms in the nation.

Our Approach

We do not sit back and let plaintiffs dictate the pace in class action proceedings. We go on the offensive, subjecting these lawsuits to withering attack from day one, before any discovery has taken place. We are experienced in the unique procedures and defenses available in class actions, and we employ every tool in our arsenal in an effort to secure an early dismissal, a denial of class certification or summary judgment. At all times, we are methodical and strategic in our approach so that our resources are deployed in a cost-effective manner consistent with our clients' business goals.

Our Winning Record

Our confidence in our approach is derived from our long history of success. We have a track record of class action victories including, most recently, winning a motion to dismiss in a nine-figure Ponzi scheme class action. We have obtained dismissals or denials of class certification in multiple securities, consumer and environmental cases in recent years. Our experience teaches us that the best defense is a good offense, and we aggressively put that into practice for our clients.

Our Experience

- Securities class actions
- Antitrust class actions
- Cybersecurity and technology class actions
- Consumer class actions
- Health care class actions
- Environmental class actions
- Employment class actions
- ERISA and fiduciary class actions